

Academic Physicians – Infectious Diseases

The University of Chicago's Department of Medicine, Section of Infectious Diseases and Global Health, is searching for a full-time infectious diseases specialist for appointment as an Assistant Professor. The appointee will have a mix of outpatient and inpatient clinical responsibilities primarily at our Hyde Park campus, and potentially at our Chicagoland area network locations. Other duties will include clinical research with an emphasis on participating in clinical trials with translational and correlative components, and the teaching and supervision of trainees and students. Compensation (including a generous package of fringe benefits) is dependent upon qualifications.

Prior to the start of employment, qualified applicants must: 1) have a medical doctorate or equivalent, 2) hold or be eligible for medical licensure in the State of Illinois, and 3) be Board Certified or Eligible in Infectious Diseases.

To be considered, those interested must apply through The University of Chicago's Academic Recruitment job board, which uses Interfolio to accept applications: <http://apply.interfolio.com/97301>. Applicants must upload: a CV including bibliography and cover letter. Review of applications ends when the position is filled.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange.
